Throughout the Manufacture of this justly celebrated brand of Table Waters all ingredients used are guaranteed of purest quality. The machinery used is the most modern type and we have gone to great expense to erect our plant on latest scientific principles which has such a great advantage over the old process of manual labour still in vogue through the Colony, thereby further ensuring the purity of our products.

The Manufacture is under the personal supervision of a QUALIFIED ENGLISH CHEMIST, who has devoted years to bring this branch of the trade to perfection.

The Water used is analysed daily to ensure of its absolute purity, and when we say that our method of manufacture has been approved by Sanitary and Medical Authorities, it is in itself a sufficient guarantee.

OWING to the insufficiency of accommodation in the present building and the increasing demand for admission, it has been found necessary to extend the wings of the main building and to enlarge the Chinese department by an additional storey with two wings. The estimated cost will amount to over $15,000. To cover these expenses we Appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education. The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its past pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance, we expect a generous response. The names of our most liberal Benefactors will be inscribed upon marble tablets, as a lasting testimony of their generosity. THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS.

ANOTHER SERIOUS FIRE IN HONGKONG.

SIXTEEN HOUSES GUTTED.

The inhabitants of the City of Victoria are becoming so accustomed to the clanging of the fire-bell that many residing in the vicinity of the Clock Tower can slumber through the still hours of the night without being awakened by the startling clash summoning firemen to their duty. Hongkong has this year experienced many fires, some small and unattended with much loss, others covering extensive areas and involving the loss large sums of money. The most serious outbreak since January, occurred on the 29th March, when a large portion of Queen's Road, Upper and Lower Lascar Rows and Loader Street was destroyed causing damage to the extent of nearly a million dollars. Close upon 50 houses were and, owing to the scarcity of water at the outset, the firemen experienced the greatest difficulty in fighting the flames.

Though rain has since fallen and the water supply has been considerably augmented the firemen were severely handicapped during the early stages of a fire which broke out this morning at No. 188 Wellington Street. The alarm was raised about 12.45 and, as the outbreak was just at the back of the Central Station, the firemen were quickly on the spot followed by others, rushing helter skelter from the Police headquarters. No water was obtainable from the mains, and it was after one o'clock ere an effective supply was being played on the flames from the floating fire engine. Acting Deputy Superintendent A. Mackie was in charge of the Brigade who was ably assisted by the police. The flames rapidly spread to the right, and left, and ate their way to the back of the building with the result that other premises were quickly alight. Many people were attracted by the by such palpable falsehoods, people living thousands of miles away be found to put faith in them. For I have invariably found the British friendly, generous, and kind. I might refer to my own experience, when, at the outbreak of the war, I was in command of a large body of Free Staters. Before we could join the burghers from the Transvaal.

TWO SEVERE BATTLES.
had been fought at Dundee and Elandsbaag. Directly I came into touch with the Transvaalers who had taken part in the fight, and learned that a large number of their men, including General Koch and other notable leaders, had been wounded and taken prisoners, my first question was as to how the wounded and prisoners had been treated by the English. I was glad to hear that they had been most kindly dealt with, and that after General Koch had succumbed to his injuries his body was respectfully handed over to his friends for burial at their hands. Further, I had occasion to march through the country around Dewetsdorp shortly after a large English force had passed through. I inquired most carefully at each farm and stopping-place as to the behaviour of the troops, and was in every instance assured that the soldiers had not done the slightest damage, had stolen nothing, and had treated all the people with kindness and respect. I even found that the families of burghers still fighting with the Boers had received exactly the same treatment as the families of those who had surrendered. No distinction had been made. Again, on one occasion I was permitted to meet with the wife of my brother, General Christian De Wet, who is still fighting in the field. I must acknowledge that Mrs. De Wet was, at that time, very bitter against the English, but when I asked her how she was treated and whether I could procure her any necessities, her reply was that she had been most kindly treated by the troops and that she lacked nothing. Since my own surrender I have experienced nothing but kindness and courtesy from the military authorities. For the last twelve months I have lived in Kroonstad, and sometimes I almost forget that war is still in the land.

In conclusion, General Piet De Wet instanced the peaceable and quiet state of the town in which they were living, although thousands of soldiers were frequently passing through, as showing the thorough discipline and good conduct of "Tommy Atkins."

MARTINIQUE DISASTER.

FEAR FOR ST. VINCENT.

FURTHER DETAILS.

All communication with St. Vincent is stopped, and has been so for several days. A number of warships have started en route to the threatened island with supplies and provisions. In consequence of the breaking of the cable there are very few details available. On 8th, May towards eight o'clock in the morning the volcano projected a mass of smoke and stones followed by a fall of fire which instantaneously set fire to the town. The rain of stones continued fifteen minutes. The bucket, on approaching, found vessels burned and heaps of corpses on the quay. Not a living being was seen in the town into which it was impossible to penetrate. The number of victims is estimated at 30,000. Governor Moutier, Colonel Gerbant and their wives are amongst the dead. It is believed that several persons have been able to take refuge at the Red Bluff, which is preserved. The Council of Ministers has decided to put the flag at half mast. Unlimited help has been voted for Martinique. A telegram has been sent to Martinique expressing the sorrow of the entire nation. Pessimistic news have been received from Barbadoes. The sulphur mines of St. Vincent are in agitation; a catastrophe is feared.

LONDON, May 12th.

An official telegram has been received from St. Vincent recording the destruction wrought upon the island by the eruption of the volcano of the Pelee mountains.

The damage was confined to the North of St. Vincent. The official estimate of the number killed on the island gives the number as 500.

THE MARTINIQUE DISASTER.
has caused a profound sensation in Great Britain. Much anxiety is felt regarding the safety of St. Vincent. Telegram states that St. Pierre was destroyed in the twinkling of an eye. A whirlwind of steam, boiling mud and fire swept the city and the roadside, as the harbour is called in nautical parlance. The streets are paved with dead. Martinique, called by the natives Madiana is one of the lesser Antilles, in the West Indian Islands. It is 43 miles long by 12 to 20 broad and has an area of 380 square miles, and 190,000 inhabitants, of whom only 10,000 are whites. The island was discovered by the Spaniards in 1490, colonized by the French in 1635, and, except for three short intervals (1761-63; 1794-1802; 1809-14), when it was held by the British, it has been a French colony ever since. A mountain knot in the north (4,430 feet) and another in the south are connected by a low ridge, all being densely covered with trees. There are numerous short streams. The coasts are irregular and high, except on the west, where stood the ill-fated St. Pierre, the principal commercial centre, and Port de France, the capital, a city of some 15,000 inhabitants, which was nearly destroyed by fire in 1880.

A visit has been made to the ruins of St. Pierre, the island of Martinique was hidden behind a dense haze. The coast is strewn with quantities of wreckage and floating corpses with gulls and sharks devouring them. The visitors experienced alternate blasts of hot and cold blasts of wind and rain. The city was still burning which made landing very difficult. The streets of the city are hardly traceable and heaps of corpses were met with mostly face downwards.

MARKS OF SYMPATHY.

BERLIN, 13th May.
New craters continue to form on Martinique. The loss of life and goods is steadily increasing. Emperor William was the first Sovereign to express to President Loubet his regret and to offer him assistance.

He has sent 10,000 marks to the relief fund for the Martinique victims.

The King of England has given 25,000 francs for the same purpose.

The Sovereigns have telegraphed their condolences on the subject of the catastrophe of Martinique.
